There have been many producers, production studios, networks, and writers over the years who have had their attempts at creating and airing a reality version of a Vampire show.

Through taking our time and doing our research, those involved in this major production are pleased to say we have put together a reality series format that would not only represent each member of the cast according to their wishes, but will also dispel the myths created by Hollywood and writers over the many years. Our production staff has taken great strides to collaborate and formulate an award winning series that everyone will feel proud to have been involved in. We have seen many members of the vampire community be involved in lesser projects and we would like to extend an invitation for them to be involved in this as well. This is not an open invitation for characters like Jonathon Sharkey to apply, all those who are deemed to be of the sort who will represent the Vampire culture in negative or sub-par standard will NOT be considered for the show. We are looking for individuals that can help clean up the mess that other Vampires have created in the media. There has been no documentary or reality series since the announcement of a Vampire for president to help combat all of the unsavory media. We are making it a personal mission to present the world with a show that will show the culture for who they really are and not the joke mainstream media tries to portray. There has been members of the community and from leading Vampire families, writers, and historians involved with this project from it's conception to keep everything sincere. We need for members and supporters to come together on this project to finally make a change. It is not the jobs of the few Vampire Celebrities or leaders to do the work for us, this effort must be made by each individual who considers themselves to be a Vampire.

If you have considered yourself a Vampire in any way, or have been active in any form of the Vampire community or culture, your story and views are ones we wish to document. In order to successfully produce a culture related show we need individuals from all walks of life to properly represent the diversity and beauty found in the culture.

If you wish to remain anonymous or wish to present this opportunity to a friend / family member because you don't consider yourself to be a Vampire, send us an email a.s.a.p.

Vampire Reality Show Details

There have been many producers, production studios, networks, and writers over the years who have had their attempts at creating and airing a reality version of a Vampire show.

Through taking our time and doing our research, those involved in this major production are pleased to say we have put together a reality series format that would not only represent each member of the east according to their wishes, but will also dispel the myths created by Hollywood and writers over the many years.

Our production staff has taken great strides to collaborate and formulate an award winning series that everyone will feel proud to have been involved in. We have seen many members of the vampire community be involved in lesser projects and we would like to extend an invitation for them to be involved in this as well. This is the project many people have been waiting for and wished would come together.

We have no intentions of putting "secrets" of the culture out into mainstream society, we are only interested in telling the stories and sharing the lives of those who have been personally touched by the Vampire culture.

If you have considered yourself a Vampire in any way, or have been active in any form of the Vampire community or culture, your story and views are ones we wish to document. In order to successfully produce a culture related show we need individuals from all walks of life to properly represent the diversity and beauty found in the culture.

If you wish to remain anonymous or wish to present this opportunity to a friend / family member, send us an email a.s.a.p.
